4. [redacted] Bill Darden, Senate Armed Services Committee staff, telephoned saying that Jim Gehrig, on behalf of Senator Symington had inquired whether the Agency had provided any information about missile bases in Cuba and made reference to Senator Keating's statement. Darden indicated that he had informed Gehrig that he did not wish to be involved since matters of CIA and the Subcommittee were held most closely by Senator Russell. Darden was merely alerting me to this since he was not sure of what Gehrig was going to do although it was possible that Gehrig might call the Agency. I thanked Mr. Darden and said he acted very properly in my opinion.
